Weekly Highlights

Keep Newnan Beautiful Plants in C.J. Smith Park

Last week, Keep Newnan Beautiful, along with Chattahoochee Riverkeeper, Native Plant Coalition, and Empower Virtual Program, planted various native foliage along the stream at C.J. Smith Park. The plants will take root by the water to, not only be beautiful, but support native plant-life, encourage pollinators, and protect the sides of the stream from erosion. Thank you to everyone who participated in making Newnan Beautiful. To see their work, visit C.J. Smith Park: 92 Farmer Street, Newnan, GA 30263

Lucky Ducks in Newnan Parks

Throughout the week, Newnan Leisure Services hid a series of rubber ducks throughout City of Newnan parks. If participants found these ducks and returned them to the Wadsworth Auditorium, they received a prize basket full of goodies. Thank you to all of the participants. For information about more Leisure Services events, visit the City of Newnan website.

Newnan Gives Day at Fire Department Station 1

Today, Newnan High School students involved in various clubs offered their services to assist with local community organizations and departments. The Student Government Association joined the Newnan Fire Department this morning in their daily routine in facility maintenance checks, equipment testing, and emergency vehicle cleaning. The students tested the jaws of life, tried on firefighter gear, and used a fire hose. Thank you to the students of Newnan High School for learning with our firefighters and for your assistance.
